

30 June 2010 withdrawal of Elgar £20 note

These notes can be used until the end of June 2010. For several months after the end of June most banks, building societies, and Post Offices will still accept these old notes.

The Bank of England will always exchange its old notes.

BANK OF ENGLAND

30 June 2010

withdrawal of Elgar £20 note

The Bank of England is withdrawing the older style £20 notes that show a portrait of Sir Edward Elgar. Holders of these notes may continue to use them until the end of June 2010.

For several months after the end of June most banks, building societies and Post Offices will accept the Elgar £20 notes for deposit to customer accounts and for other customer transactions. However, agreeing to exchange notes is at the discretion of the individual institution.

The Bank of England will always exchange its old notes. Notes may be presented for payment either in person or sent by post (at the sender's risk) to:
Dept NEX, Bank of England, Threadneedle Street, London EC2R 8AH.
